

KORRIN

life unlimited

Struggling to find direction or take the next step toward your goals?

In 2012, Korrin's life changed forever when she survived sepsis, resulting in the amputation of her hands and feet. Becoming a quadruple amputee didn't stop her—it sparked a mission to inspire others and prove that resilience can overcome any obstacle.

Korrin offers dynamic resilience workshops, engaging facilitation, and one-on-one mentoring to help individuals and teams build mental strength, develop a positive mindset, and navigate challenges with confidence. Her sessions are tailored to suit diverse audiences, leaving participants equipped and empowered to thrive in the face of adversity.

Through her personal journey, delivered with honesty, humour, and heart, Korrin creates a safe and engaging space for growth. She leaves every participant inspired, empowered, and ready to tackle life's challenges head-on. overcome anything as she chooses to live life unlimited.

"Korrin delivered both a powerful keynote and a workshop on motivational strategies. She was a delight to work with and made a real impact. I would thoroughly recommend Korrin to work with your team" - Anna Coleman, Toastmasters D112 Conference

"I am so grateful for your visit, meeting you was like finally taking a huge breath of relief! I didn't have to show you anything, explain everything or hide anything because finally, finally I saw someone who understood. This is just a huge thank you for being the insanely amazing person you are and seeing me, it meant a lot!" - Student, age 14
